Dear Joe,

Thanks for sending along the 18 May issue of the Sonoma County Stump which contains your article on hydrogen fusion. I don't profess to know much about fusion reaction beyond the basic principles involved, but am certainly for most anything which could help us solve our energy problem. It's one which I fear will plague us for some time to come, and to which there are no quick and easy solutions. As you point out in your article though, hydrogen fusion does appear to offer promise if the technology can be developed.

Hope to see you should travel. take me your way.
All the best.

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER
